OHIO SEEN TURNING TOWARD AL SMITH; 36 VOTES CLAIMED

Trend for Nomination of Governor Marked in Recent Weeks.

ANTISALOON LEAGUE IS DECLARED TAMED

Little Heard in Democratic Circles of Religious Issue; Pomerene Candidate.

By ALBERT W. FOX.

(Staff Correspondent of The Post.) Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 19.—A survey of political sentiment here, accompanied by close-up contacts with Democratic leaders, shows that this Buckeye State, which is the home of the Antisaloon League, will give at least 36 of its 48 votes to Gov. Alfred E. Smith for the Democratic nomination. The trend toward Smith has been marked for several weeks, and crystallization of the endorsement of Smith by Ohio's Democracy now coincides with statements by former Secretary of War Newton E. Baker, former Gov. James M. Cox and a frank statement made to me yesterday by A. Vic Donahay, present Democratic governor, who has already broken all records by serving three consecutive terms and who carried his State with a plurality of more than 176,000 in the teeth of a Republican plurality of 68,000 in the State for President Coolidge in 1924.

It may be the irony of fate that Donahay, who is Senator Tom Heflin's ideal and choice for the Democratic nomination, professes no use for bigotry or religious intolerance, has placed Catholics in important positions in his administration, is not a creature of the Antisaloon League, though he has their endorsement and is not antagonistic to Al Smith.

Views of Vic Donahay.

"If Alfred Smith is the nominee of our party, I'll support him," Donahay said, with his customary frankness. "I think he is a most remarkable man in many ways."

This comes on the heels of a statement by former Governor Cox that he will support Smith and that Smith is the logical nominee. And Cox's statement follows by a few days a statement by Baker to the effect Smith had the qualifications for the nomination. It looks like a harmony fest, with only a few scattering votes of dissension, so far as Ohio Democrats are concerned.

And Vic Donahay has apparently had much to do with maintaining harmony among the Democrats of the Buckeye State. This has been accomplished, in part, by a sort of gentlemen's agreement between Donahay's friends and prospective supporters of other candidates for the presidential nomination. Under this agreement former Senator Atlee Pomerene and former Representative George White are to be first and second choice for the Ohio delegates at the convention. The State law makes it necessary for certain formalities to be complied with before the delegates can be chosen and the Pomerene-White ticket is to serve the purpose of the law and hold the Ohio delegates until the delegates go somewhere else. But if another Ohio candidate—Donahay himself, for example—should loom up during the balloting as a real contender the gentlemen's agreement virtually pledges them to flock to Donahay's banner.

Governor Potential Candidate.

So the situation narrows down to this: Neither Pomerene nor White are real candidates and Donahay has repeatedly declined to be a candidate, but is not going to run away from the nomination if it should come his way while Smith is to be the accepted heir to the bulk of the Buckeye delegation if or when it becomes apparent that the nomination is destined to go outside the State of Ohio.

Several reasons are advanced in explanation of the rise in Smith stock among the Democrats. In the first place, the Antisaloon League has not fully recovered from the severe defeat it suffered last fall in the popular referendum on the Marshall bill. This bill was rushed through the State legislature and was designed to render ineffective the decision of the United States Supreme Court, which forbade petty State officers to obtain their pay through fines collected by them. The legislation circumvented the effects of the Federal decision and was plotted through the legislature by the league.

But there is a law in Ohio whereby acts of the legislature may be submitted to popular referendum when petitions can be procured, signed by 6 per cent of the total number of voters in the last gubernatorial election.

Busted by 47,000 Majority.

The requisite number of signers was procured and the popular referendum then swept the Marshall bill to oblivion by 7,000 majority. Under these circumstances, State Democrats say, the power of the Antisaloon League to put a name on Smith's candidacy has been crippled even in this homestead of the league's existence. Furthermore, the league has been "somewhat tamed," as the Democrats phrase it, as a result of the referendum and does not wish to risk another crushing defeat.

Little is heard in Democratic circles about the religious issue excepting that

Reserve Bank Aids World Stabilization, Says Mellon

Secretary Warns Against Crippling System by Imposing Impossible Tasks—Defends Course Taken in Connection With Agricultural Credits.

Charlotte, N. C., Jan. 19 (A.P.)—Declaring that the Federal Reserve system is playing an important role in the plans for world financial stabilization, Secretary Mellon gave a warning here tonight that the system should not be endangered "by loading it down with extraneous or impossible tasks."

"What the Federal Reserve system has been able to do for this country," the Treasury head said in an address before the Charlotte Chamber of Commerce, celebrating the establishment of a branch here of the Richmond Federal Reserve Bank, "is now doing to a lesser degree for the world at large. It is today one of the important factors in the effort which is being made to achieve world stabilization."

"The movement back to gold has continued steadily and other nations, including Belgium and more recently Italy, have been added to the list of countries maintaining the gold standard," Mr. Mellon continued. "In the plans for the stabilization of the rest of Europe, the participation of the Federal Reserve system is equally necessary and in all this the interests of the American farmer and manufacturer are virtually concerned."

"The work which the Federal Reserve system is doing is along sound, constructive lines. But the greatest mistake would be to expect the impossible. It is not a panacea for all the financial and economic ills which befall the country. Neither the Federal Reserve system nor any other system can control prices. The most that system can do is to influence to a limited extent, from time to time, the total volume of credit and its cost."

"While credit is one factor in influencing prices, it is neither the only factor nor the controlling one; and it

MISSING FLIERS HUNTED BY SCHLEE AND BROCK

Shots Heard While Couple Is in Hall; His Wife Had Seen Embrace, She Says.

FEMININE GUEST IS DYING

Hartford, Conn., Jan. 19 (A.P.)—Seeking a motive for the shooting of Dr. Harry Guilfoyle, veterinary surgeon, and Mrs. Maximin J. Gaudet, of New Haven, while they were in the hallway outside his former apartment last night, police worked all day without finding it or determining who was the man's pistol. Mrs. Gaudet was thought to be close to death tonight and Guilfoyle, if he lives, may be totally blind from nerve injury due to a bullet in the temple.

The surgeon's wife, who remained in their apartment with Mrs. A. S. Way, a guest, as her husband and Mrs. Gaudet went downstairs to the street door, maintained at first that she knew nothing about the shooting. She then changed the statement to the police by saying her husband had told her he attempted suicide, then explained that she found her husband's pistol on the floor and shoved it into her pocket.

Mr. Way, with Mary Gaudet, aged 5, had gone out of the apartment first. Guilfoyle and Mrs. Gaudet went next and Mrs. Way said she stayed behind while Mrs. Guilfoyle put out the lights. She heard shots in the hallway.

Neither Guilfoyle nor Mrs. Gaudet could be questioned at length today owing to their condition. From the others the police learned that all were friends of long standing. Both the Ways and Mrs. Gaudet and child had been dinner guests of the Guilfoyles. Gaudet came from New Haven and gave his opinion that his wife knew no reason for the shooting.

The police said they had obtained a statement from Mrs. Guilfoyle that she had seen her husband at some previous time embrace Mrs. Gaudet and believed there was a love affair between them.

AARON RAUM INJURED AS ENGINE HITS AUTO

Fire Apparatus Was Speeding to Curtain Blaze Started by Two Men in Fight.

Aaron Raum, 35 years old, proprietor of the Triangle Market, 1007 E. street northeast, was injured seriously last night in a crash between his sedan and the hose engine of No. 8 Engine Company at Thirteenth and C streets southeast.

Raum was thrown from his car, which was whirled into a yard at the northeast corner of the intersection, and was hurried to Casualty Hospital. He suffered a possible fracture of the skull, concussion of the brain and severe lacerations on the head.

The fire engine, driven by Private George Henry, was hurrying to an alarm from Sixteenth and C streets southeast. A curtain in the dwelling at 1512 C street southeast had been set fire during an altercation between two colored men, in which one hurled a lamp at the other, police state. Samuel Hale, 52 years old, colored, was arrested on charges of assault and battery. Joseph Shaw, 30, arrested on charges of drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

PAN AMERICAN LAW COMMITTEE UNDER FOE OF U.S. POLICY

Significance Is Attached in Havana to Choice of Dr. Guerrero.

REGRETS EXPRESSED AT MORROW'S GOING

Possibility of Controversy Is Seen in Commission on New Resolutions.

WIFE'S FRIEND ARRESTED IN TAXI DRIVER'S DEATH

A. M. Segreti, 21, Taken by Police at Burial of Jones in Arlington.

NURSE-WIDOW LOSES JOB

With precinct and detective headquarters officials all denying responsibility for the arrest, Anthony Matthew Segreti, 21-year-old stonemason, of 120 B street northwest, is being held at the Third Precinct station for investigation in connection with the murder Saturday of William H. Jones, taxicab driver.

The committee over which Senator Guerrero will preside has jurisdiction over the most controversial resolutions which the conference has to pass upon. They are the draft treaties for the codification of American public international law prepared at the jurists' conference at Rio Janeiro last April, which recommended among other measures, prohibition by treaty of the interference by force of any American country in the internal affairs of another.

James Brown Scott, president of the American Institute of International Law; Ambassador Fletcher and Oscar Underwood, of Alabama, were the other members of the American delegation present at the initial organization meeting of that body.

Senor Guerrero is reputedly antagonistic to the policies of the United States in Latin America. His name was proposed by Dr. Orestes Ferraro, Cuban Ambassador at Washington, and seconded by Charles E. Hughes, chairman of the American delegation. He was unanimously raised to the head of the committee at the initial organization meeting of that body.

The work which the Federal Reserve system is doing is along sound, constructive lines. But the greatest mistake would be to expect the impossible. It is not a panacea for all the financial and economic ills which befall the country. Neither the Federal Reserve system nor any other system can control prices. 6-Foot Texan's Bride Kidnapped, He Says

New York, Jan. 19 (A.P.)—A 6-foot Texan complained to police today that his father-in-law and two brothers-in-law had "kidnapped" his sixth and latest bride.

John Pritle, of Nacogdoches County Tex., declared he married Mrs. Alice Kupperling, 35, of Trenton, N. J., last Wednesday, but that her father, Fred Toff, voiced objections when he learned Pritle had been married and divorced five times. At the pleading of his bride, Pritle said he let her meet her relatives alone at the Hotel Bristol when he returned he was told they had taken her away with them. Police told him there was nothing they could do.

Barriers Up Again In Hankow Streets

London, Jan. 19 (A.P.)—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Hongkong today said that advices from Hankow indicated that a feeling of unrest was prevalent there. Barriers were erected in the streets again.

The verdict was based on the report of physicians who performed an autopsy on the body.

The roof was torn from the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad depot at Cummins, Ind. Sweeping out of overcast skies a line squall, nearing the proportions of a tornado, cut a path through southern Ohio today, leaving one dead and many injured. Property damage was estimated at $800,000.

The storm was the worst experienced in this territory since the tornado of 1917. Damage was heaviest at Cummins, a suburb of Cincinnati, where the loss may aggregate $500,000. Homes and school houses at Lindenwald, Ohio, felt the fury of the high wind. Two school children were among the injured.

The roll call follows:

Against declaring Smith's seat vacant: Republicans—Blaine, Borah, Brookhart, Capper, Couzens, Curtis, Dale, Frazier, Gooding, Howard, Howell, Johnson, Jones, La Follette, McMaster, McNary, Norbeck, Norris, Nye, Robinson of Indiana, Steiner and Willis—21.

Total, 23.

Pairs were announced as follows:

Edwards, Democrat, for, with King, Democrat, against; Fletcher, Democrat, for, with Dupont, Republican, against; Tyson, Democrat, for, with Schall, Republican, against.

It was announced that Senators Ransdell, Democrat, and Sackett, Republican, would have voted for the resolution had they been present. Senators Goff and Edge were absent and were without pairs.

Case Sets Precedent.

Barring of Senator-elect Smith from the place to which he was elected by the people of Illinois, owing to the charge of excessive expenditures in his primary campaign, marks a step without precedent in the Senate. While other senators have been expelled or forced out, including William Lorimer, of Illinois, it has been under circumstances by no means parallel. In the present case Col. Smith was not even allowed to take the oath of office, but was barred "at the door" of the Senate chamber.

What has happened in his case will undoubtedly happen in the case of Senator-elect William S. Vare, of Pennsylvania, who will be declared not entitled to hold a seat.

The original resolution as reported from the Reed special committee contained an expression holding Senator-elect Smith was not entitled to take the oath. This was eliminated yesterday largely at the insistence of Senator Borah. The result was the Senate did not directly in the final test pass on the question of the right of Senator-elect Smith to take the oath on the strength of his credentials.

Appointment May Follow.

If Senator-elect Smith does not adhere to the position which he took some time ago that he would keep his credentials despite the Senate action, it is expected he will be appointed to the Senate by Gov. Small and will run again in the Illinois primary in the spring.

The resolution adopted, after reciting the expenditures in the Illinois primary in 1926, says:

"Resolved, That the acceptance and expenditure of the various sums of money aforesaid in behalf of the candidacy of the said Frank L. Smith is contrary to sound public policy, harmful to the dignity and honor of the Senate, dangerous to the perpetuity of free government, and tainted with fraud and corruption; the credentials for a seat in the Senate by the said Frank L. Smith; and be it further

"Resolved, That the said Frank L. Smith is not entitled to membership in the Senate of the United States, and that a vacancy exists in the representation of the State of Illinois in the United States Senate."

Senator Reed, in summarizing, said:

"There has been presented here, on behalf of Mr. Smith, no argument based upon the Justice and merit of his case."

No senator has dared assert that his conduct in seeking the election is free from grave reproach.

"No senator has dared defend the payment in the form of a campaign

HIS $1,000,000 GONE, INDICTED MAN KILLS WIFE, 2 SONS, SELF

Former Steubenville Banker Made Fortune in Oil, Then Lost It.

COUGH MEDICINE USED: DEATH COMES QUICKLY

Cleveland Man Was to Have Been Arraigned Saturday on $500 Theft Charge.

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 19 (A.P.)—The bodies of James Potter, 46, his wife Lulu, 43, and their two sons, James, Jr., 16 and Robert, 14, lay in a morgue here tonight awaiting arrival of relatives who will take them back to Steubenville, the city which the family left last Thanksgiving Day to come to Cleveland in an effort to recoup their fortune.

All four were victims of a deadly disease taken in the form of a cough medicine, it is thought. Poter announced that twice as many of the dying had been found in the medicine chest at the Potter home. City chemists reported that the drug produces almost instant death.

Death of the four brought to a close a fight against circumstances which saw the collapse of a fortune estimated at $1,000,000 and a struggle to once again attain financial success.

Awaiting Arraignment.

Poter was to have been arraigned next Saturday on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses at Steubenville.

Four years ago Potter resigned as cashier of a Steubenville bank after it was reported he had made a fortune in oil.

Success smiled on him and his wealth grew. His every undertaking was profitable until he rated as a millionaire. Then came a fall from fortune stopped. Investments in West Virginia coal fields wiped out almost his entire fortune when he failed to get railroad connections to his mines.

With his small remaining capital he started a business, but in this he did not succeed. He then called in his debts, which had been indicated for obtaining $500 under false pretenses in connection with a land deal.

The indictment was returned after he had come to Cleveland, rented a spacious flat and opened a rooming house. Last night the family had five guests of their roomers. After dinner Potter took his wife for a walk late in the evening the family gathered in the living room and a short time later Mrs. Maude Homan, the housekeeper, came in. Mrs. Homan found James dying.

"Daddy has given us cough medicine and I feel it coming on," he moaned. As she entered the boy's bedroom she found Potter dead and Mrs. Potter working over Robert. "It was medicine," Mrs. Potter exclaimed, as she too fell unconscious.

Coroner A. P. Hammond said no autopsy would be conducted as investigation had revealed all four deaths were caused by poisoning.

Gov. Simpson Gains In Louisiana Race

New Orleans, La., Jan. 19 (A.P.)—Creeping up slowly, Representative Roy J. Wilson, as belated returnee from rural precincts filtered in, Gov. O. H. Simpson today had drawn up to within 5,500 votes of second position in the gubernatorial race in Tuesday's Democratic primary. Huey P. Long, in first place, now more than 100,000 ahead of Wilson, and interest in the race lay solely in who would be entitled to oppose him in a runoff primary next month.

The returns from 1,279 out of the 1,390 precincts in the State tabulated at noon today, gave Long 32,294, Wilson 38,428 and Simpson 72,941.

DEMOCRATS BACK LEADER

before the governmental departments, and Bleese, of South Carolina, said he never attended party caucuses. His colleague Senator Smith, frankly did not identify the entire membership of the Democratic side of the Senate with the only avowed objections to Senator Robinson: Now, therefore, be it  followed by the expression of confidence. The Alabama senator, who did not attend the caucus, but who later took the floor to wave everybody that he was there, did not say much of this elimination. By those who were there, though, it was said that Senator Wheeler, of Montana, simply arose and moved a vote of confidence and Senator Glass, of Virginia, sought hastily to reduce it to writing. Elimination of the preamble was generally looked upon as inconsequential.

Heflin Charges Unfairness.

Heflin, from his place of origin, had been in his absence that he knew nothing of it until he arrived at the Capitol. It had all been decided unfairly, he declared, but he gave assurance that although he was not at the caucus, "his friends" had looked out for his interests. He had been assured by ten or twelve of them that nothing was done to condemnatory of him. He said he never expected the Democrats would remove Robinson. In the "main" he subscribed to the Arkansan's leadership himself.

He thought his conduct exceedingly strange, ungracious and indefensible," he explained. "But I wouldn't expect them to remove him for what he said."

So "with that understanding" of everything was all right, he said. Senator Smith is "very popular with people who have no great power of the Roman hierarchy can not express free speech." And he plans to continue to speak whenever he sees fit.

"It will be a sad day for the Democratic party," he said as a parting shot. "I want to show it was not a defeat. "Then, "it is taken with Tammany, Al Smith, a bull, a mulifier, a Tammanyite and a Roman Catholic."

Moses Challenges Statement.

Senator Robinson was not in the chamber during the recitation but those Democrats present let his statement of what happened at the caucus go unchallenged, most of them highly annoyed. But Senator Moses challenged the statement.

Explaining that he, of course, as a Republican, did not attend the caucus, but he knew what had happened nevertheless. He first produced the record of the 1924 election, which showed that he had voted for Al Smith, and then, in the meeting for the election of Wednesday, then maneuvered Heflin into an admission that he had deliberately stayed away. He did so, he said, after Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, and Senator Glass, of Virginia, had called him off. They had assured him he had, that he was not to be made the issue, so he had decided to drop the matter.

Subsequently, Senator Tyson told newspaper men, in the presence of Heflin, that he had not asked Heflin to stay away from the caucus but had simply advised him not to press his fight against Robinson.

"Why don't you tell what actually happened at the caucus?" Moses demanded. He then recalled that Heflin had been present at the caucus and had demanded a "show-down" only the day before. The Democratic leader together admitted his willingness to set itself up as the "anti-Catholic" party, he declared, he wanted to get out of it. Copeland argued in similar vein.

Smith Candidacy an Issue.

The name of Gov. Smith of New York was freely mentioned in the discussion. Senator Harris, of Georgia, said he understood to have been nominated by his colleagues in the Senate to the position of chief executive.

The Arkansas senator's action was highly称赞ed by the District of Columbia, Senator Bruce, of Maryland, and Copeland, of New York, told the caucus. Senator Bruce declared that the Catholics are the backbone of the party in the East and that unless the party wants to disintegrate into purely a sectional small bloc, it cannot continue to give offense to the nation.

The editorial comes as a sharp climax to the row precipitated on the floor of the United States Senate yesterday, between Senator Thomas Heflin, of Alabama, and Senator Joseph T. Robinson, of Arkansas, Democratic leader.

The Advertiser has consistently and persistently fought Heflin's attempts to link the Catholic Church with State and national politics.

COOLIGDES RETURN FROM HAVANA TRIP Cuban Embassy Staff Greets Party, Including Kellogg and Wilburs.

President and Mrs. Coolidge returned to Washington yesterday morning after their six-day trip to Havana, where the President addressed the Pan-American Conference. The train arrived after 7 o'clock, and soon after the President and Mrs. Coolidge went to the White House for breakfast.

Secretary and Mrs. Kellogg and Secretary Kellogg's husband, the Ambassador to Mexico, also attended the trip. The trip was to show to other countries the eagerness of the United States to stand on an equality with other nations in the Western Hemisphere.

Members of the Cuban Embassy staff, headed by the Charge d'Affaires, welcomed the President at Union Station. At the White House the President followed a light program, his only entertainment being a pose for a picture with delegates to the National Association of Dyers and Cleaners.

MARRIAGE OF RETIRED ARMY OFFICER VOIDED

Capt. J. S. Van Fleet, 65 Years Old, of Capital, Says "Moonshine" Stupefied Mind.

The marriage of Capt. Joseph S. Van Fleet, 65 years old, retired Army officer, to Mrs. Violet B. Tichenor, 37 years old, of Arlington County, was declared null and void yesterday by the Circuit Court of Arlington on petition of Capt. Van Fleet, who told the court that the ceremony was performed while he was intoxicated.

Capt. Van Fleet in his petition said that at the time of the marriage he was "under the influence of intoxicating liquor to such an extent that his mind was so stupefied as to be utterly incapable of having a just appreciation and realization of what it meant." They were married in Rockville July 12, 1927, by the Rev. Bertram M. Osgood, of the Rockville Baptist Church.

Capt. Van Fleet was formerly a resident of Washington and stationed with the Army ordnance office in the War Department here. About three years ago he moved to Baltimore. He says that the death of

BLANTON, CURSING RATHBONE, LEAVES COMMITTEE ROOM

Texan Angry When Police Merger Bill Is Denied Immediate Action.

THREATENS TO OPPOSE ILLINOISAN'S MEASURE

Zihlman's Plan for Increasing Pay for Patrolmen Wins Favor.

Shouting an angry "Damn you!" at Representative Henry R. Rathbone, of Illinois, Representative Thomas L. Blanton, of Texas, yesterday stalked out of a House committee room where a hearing was being held on the question of raising the pay of local policemen and firemen.

Representative Rathbone is chairman of a District subcommittee to which was turned over the pay raise bills of Representative Zihlman and Representative of Missouri. Rathbone's bill calls for a blanket increase of $300 for all police and firemen, regardless of rank. Zihlman's bill provides increases ranging from $500 to $1,000 for all police and fire officials above the rank of lieutenant. The $300 increase for policemen and all under that rank.

At the hearing yesterday the Rathbone subcommittee turned down the Blanton bill and voted to make a favorable report on the Zihlman bill. This evidently did not set so well with Blanton, and he announced that later he would introduce his own bill to make it conform with his own.

Afterward Blanton sought to have the contribution of nearly a quarter of a million dollars by the proprietor of a great public-service corporations to the chief officer of a semijudicial board which held the power of life and death over the interests by him represented.

"No senator has dared defend the act of the president of a great public board in accepting nearly a quarter of a million dollars from litigants constantly before his court and dependent for their very existence upon the decisions by him rendered."

"No senator claims that the amount of money expended on behalf of Frank L. Smith was not so excessive as to be clearly illegal."

"No senator asserts that Frank L. Smith stands here with clean hands or denies that he arrived at the door of the Senate over a crooked and dishonest path."

"Neither did Smith himself, when given the fullest opportunity to make his defense, represent his cause, offer a single word of evidence or argument to explain, palliate, or excuse his course of conduct."

Holds Defense Testimonial.

"On the contrary, Mr. Smith and his defenders threw up a smoke screen of legal technicalities, sophistries and refinements which, if entertained, will sanctify the frauds of the present and open wide the door to every trickster, bribe-giver, ballot-box stuffer and corrupter who may come into contact with a certifiable honest man obtained."

"According to their theory, if the corrupt governor of a State were to publicly announce that he proposed to sell subcommittee take immediate action on his bill to consolidate the Metropolitan Police with the park police. Chairman Rathbone decided this would not be fair, because Lieut. Col. U. S. Grant, 3d, head of the park police, had asked for a hearing.

Visibly angry, Blanton reminded Rathbone that he had helped get his Ford Theater bill reported to the House while the Illinois member was away.

Blanton was leaving the room, Rathbone called after him:

"Wait a minute, we are ready to give you a vote on your bill."

"Yes," Blanton barked, "and I am ready to vote on yours, damn you!"

Zihlman Measured Favored.

With that he swept from the room, leaving the subcommittee to consider a bill enlarging the Women's Bureau of the Police Department. No action was taken on the measure.

Both Fire Chief George Watson and Inspector Henry G. Pratt, chief of the Fire Department, told the Senate yesterday that they wanted an increase bill. While Watson was testifying, Blanton asked him if he had ever been a fireman in the ranks. When Watson answered that he had not, Blanton declared that he was not in a position to speak for the rank and file of firemen. He made the same observation of Edwin B. Hesse, superintendent of police, who was chief clerk of the department before he was placed at its head.

Representative George Combs, of Missouri, declared that the blanket raise proposed by Blanton was unscientific and illegal, and that no business concern would approve of it.

HOOVER ASKS NEW LAW FOR COLLECTIVE BUYING

Tells House Committee That Foreign Monopolies Are Multing Americans.

RUBBER SITUATION CITED

(Associated Press)

The American consumer of tires loses millions of dollars annually as result of the British rubber monopoly. Hoover yesterday told the House Judiciary committee, in endorsing a bill to permit the formation of American trade associations to make collective purchases of raw materials controlled by foreign nations.

"There he could continue to sit and vote away the money and, perchance, the honor and life of the United States. A majority vote can not sanctify a fraud."

"It can not make black white."

"It can not transform evil into good."

"It can not change dishonesty into honesty."

Expenditures are Cited.

The total cost to the resolution set aside for details of the expenditures in the Smith campaign. It gives the total as $198,762. It says that of this $203,000 came from officials of large public service corporations while Smith was chairman of the Illinois commerce commission. This largely refers to contributions of Samuel Insull, public utility magnate.

Prior to the vote on the resolution offered by Senator Reed, of Missouri, Senator Deenen, of Illinois, presented a substitute to add the section electing the state to the administration of the oath to him and reference of any charges to the privileges and election committee. This was voted down by 56 to 27.

The vote was taken about 6 o'clock, night, after a day of debate. The galleries were filled with spectators to witness the scene when, in the language of Senator Moses, "the guillotine fell."

In the course of the afternoon those who spoke were Senator Snodgrass, Morris Brattin, Cutting, Brown, Brooks, Davis, Deenen and Reed of Missouri, Senator Reed, of Missouri, closed the debate.

Senator Snodgrass spoke against the resolution. Senator Cuttler青年, youth senator from Illinois, who had spoken earlier, also opposed it. At the same time he expressed the wish that the Senate rules be changed to make definite the limit of expenditures.

Frank L. Smith Declines To Comment on Decision

Dwight, Ill., Jan. 19 (A.P.)—Senator Frank L. Smith, of Illinois, when advised tonight that the Senate had voted to end his Senate seat vacant, said:

"I have made my statement to the Senate committee and I have nothing to add or delete. I do not know what future action that may be taken. I shall always keep uppermost in mind the welfare of the people of Illinois and the rights of the State."

Representative George Combs, of Missouri, declared that the blanket raise proposed by Blanton was unscientific and illegal, and that no business concern would approve of it.

32 S-4 DEATHS LAID TO SLOW DROWNING

Deaths Gradual, Is Testimony of Medical Examiner After Autopsies.

Boston, Jan. 19 (A.P.)—The 32 men whose bodies were recovered from the other compartments of the sunken submarine S-4 died of slow drowning, the naval court of inquiry investigating the S-4 disaster was informed today. Dr. Margaret Macbeth, medical examiner of Suffolk County, presented to the court the results of autopsies performed on several of the bodies, as well as blood tests made in three instances.

The later tests, the medical examiner said, revealed no carbon monoxide or chlorine gas in the blood, while the carbon dioxide content was "within limits normal after death."

In support of his finding that death by drowning had been slow or gradual, Dr. Macbeth said he had found the lungs of eight bodies filled with water and oil, and a large quantity of water also in the chest cavities. The presence of air in the lungs, he asserted, he said, indicated that a mixture of air and water had been breathed for some time before death.

At first, the medical examiner said, the bodies had been stiffened by rigor mortis. As first aid, Musteroles are excellent. Keep a jar ready for instant use.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified croosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, croosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest tonics and cures for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to croosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation while the croosote goes to the stomach at night.

Representative John E. Rankin, of Mississippi, speaking at the night meeting under auspices of the United Confederate Camp, No. 171, criticized the Government for what he termed the "neglect and abuse" of the Lee Mansion at Arlington. The chairman of the South's war leader insisted, he said of keeping in the question a copy of "trade" against slavery by Robert Ingersoll, who, according to Rankin, did more to undermine civilization than any other man of his lifetime.

Lee was termed "the first American not excepting Washington"; Jackson, "a greater military genius than Napoleon," and Jefferson Davis, "the greatest martyr of them all."

John E. Lowry presided, and was assisted in arranging the program by Dr. G. Wythe Cook, Gen. W. L. Wilkerson and Col. John M. Pollin.

The children of the Confederacy placed a wreath on the statue of Gen. Lee in Statuary Hall in the afternoon. Senator Alben W. Barkley, of Kentucky, spoke on the life of Lee.

LIFETIME FURNITURE

A Sound Reason for a Comprehensive Stock

WE ARE OFTEN ASKED, especially by business men, why we carry such an extensive stock of fine furniture and decorative accessories.

And our answer is this: We do not want to put our patrons to the necessity of making selections from photographs, if it can be avoided.

We, as trained buyers, find it difficult to purchase from portfolios and so make frequent visits to the markets and factories.

We bring to our establishment what we deem to be the "cream of the markets." And this fine Lifetime Furniture is always interestingly priced.

the Republicans will double their to capitalize this in the campaign. But few of the Democratic leaders really expect a Democrat to win. Ohio's electoral vote this year may go with will probably lose the State, but carry the country, and they say that he is by far "the best bet" and might beat Hoover, if the latter gets the Republican nomination. This latter forecast is based on the fact that the Republicans rank by the German vote in the northwestern part of the State, where Hoover would be portrayed to the voters as the man who took a leading part in bringing about the defeat of Germany in the World War. This Ohio has 22 congressional districts. Reports from the first two districts, Hamilton County districts, are favorable to Smith and the same holds true of the third Dayton district, the fourth Western Ohio district, the fifth northwestern, the sixth Cincinnati, the seventh heavy Republican district that centers around Springfield, the eighth around Marion.

Democratic newspapers in the State

Southerners in the Capital yesterday paid tribute to the memories of Gens. Robert E. Lee and "StoneWall" Jackson on the anniversary of their births. Memorial meetings and ceremonies were held in the Capitol in the afternoon and in the Confederate Memorial Home, 1324 Vermont avenue northwest at night.

Representative John E. Rankin, of Mississippi, speaking at the night meeting under auspices of the United Confederate Camp, No. 171, criticized the Government for what he termed the "neglect and abuse" of the Lee Mansion at Arlington. more, carrying more, and more news favorable to Smith, is pointed out, and there is an impression in the several sections that Smith is friendly to the farmers and will ultimately be found in harmony with the exponents of practical farm-relief measures.

This is a curious little follow-up of the religious test in connection with the Gray-Snyder case. Ruth Snyder has turned Catholic, the reports went, and therefore Smith is going to pardon her. Wait and see. When the expected pardon was not forthcoming the flurry of activity was over.

Ohio has 22 congressional districts. Reports from the first two districts, Hamilton County districts, are favorable to Smith and the same holds true of the third Dayton district, the fourth Western Ohio district, the fifth northwestern, the sixth Cincinnati, the seventh heavy

Republican district that centers around Springfield, the eighth around Marion.

Toledo District for Smith.

The ninth Toledo district is reported certain for Smith. The tenth southern district is doubtful, while the eleventh, southeast from Columbus, and the twelfth Columbus district are reported for Smith. Reports from the thirteenth Sandusky district, the fourteenth up to and including the nineteenth, twenty-first, twenty-second, and twenty-third, are reported unquestionably for Smith.

On the basis of present information and checking up processes the forecast of the Democrats is that Smith may receive 22 electoral votes, set out on 22, but not more. If there were another real Democratic contender, others may say, the check-up might be different.

But there is a tendency on all sides to accept the statement of the Smith followers that "there is no one equal to him on either side." And the Smith people has done perhaps as much as anything else to consolidate Democratic sentiment behind the New York governor.

CHILE AWARDS HONOR TO "GOOD-WILL" Fliers

"Orden Del Merito" Conferred on Army Officers by Envoy at Luncheon Here.

The Orden del Merito, restricted Chilean decoration, has been awarded by the Chilean government to members of the Army's Pan American "good will flight" announcement of the award being made at a luncheon given in their honor by Senor Don Carlos G. Davila, Chilean Ambassador, at the Chilean Embassy here.

Four of the eight officers who composed the flight were in attendance.

Major Herbert A. Dargue, the flight commander; Capt. Ira C. Eaker, Lieut. Muir S. Fairchild and Lieut. Ennis C. Whitehead, other members being at distant posts in the West.

Secretary of the Navy, William, Assistant Secretary of War Davison, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Warner, Assistant Secretary of Commerce MacCracken, Maj. Gen. James E. Fitch, chief of Air Corps, and Assistant Secretary of State, also attended.

Capt. Charles C. Moore, of the Chilean Navy, and Lieut. Victor M. Strahm, Air Corps, flew here from Selfridge Field, Mich., to attend the luncheon.

The Orden del Merito was created by Gen. Bernardo O'Higgins, the George Washington of the revolution Spanish colony of Chile, to be awarded to soldiers and sailors of the heroic republic who most distinguished themselves in their country's service. It was originally confined to those who served in the Chilean War of Independence, and the order died with it.

In 1906, however, the Chilean government decided to confer it on some foreigners but, to preserve the traditions of the nation, it was established that the order should never be conferred on a Chilean.

It has been given to citizens of the United States up to the present time.

The jewel of the order will be formally presented the Pan American fliers at a later date.

MR. NEW'S AIRPORT PLAN.

Postmaster General New's suggestion that landing fields for airplanes be constructed as superstructures over railroad yards has been received with varied comment. It is generally admitted that in New York City such a scheme provides the only possibility for bringing airplanes close enough to the center of town so that the time gained through their use is not dissipated entirely in the trip to and from the flying fields. In Washington, however, or similar cities, this consideration is not so pressing, for land suitable for a flying field may be obtained reasonably close to the business district.

It is generally believed that the scheme might be advantageous in Washington, provided the field so constructed would be reserved for air mail planes only. The area available over the tracks at Washington Terminal is not great. Although a field might be constructed thereon, it could not be large enough to comply with Department of Commerce ratings for standard airports. Such a field could not be utilized as a municipal airport. A great deal more space would be needed for the municipal field must contain adequate hangars, repair shops, restaurants, meteorological stations and possibly even dormitories. In addition, a municipal airport should not be located in highly congested area because of the dangers of forced landings in the event of failures in landing or taking off.

Mr. New's suggestion is worthy of serious consideration, but it is to be hoped that his project will not tend to lessen interest in the creation of a model municipal airport.

DON'T MARRY TOO EARLY.

Gen. Sir Webb Gillman, a gallant British soldier and brave, has issued a strong recommendation to the cadets at the Royal Military College to avoid the ensnaring state of matrimony until they are at least 30 years of age. If the evil day must come then, let it come, and meet it in that spirit of good sportsmanship in which England expects every man to do his duty.

Sir Webb's objection to youthful marriage is that it hampers the freedom of movement of a truly ambitious man. Is the budding officer ordered to India? His lady strenuously objects to accompanying him to those heathen parts, there to be baked in the sun and devoured by snakes. Is the young dragoon instructed by the war office to report at Cape Town or Trinidad? Madam will not budge. If he goes out, he must go alone, or if, by dint of persuasion and the joy of recent nuptials, he gets her there, she immediately begins to mutter disturbing things in his ear of nights about the other ladies of the garrison, and, in short, undermines his efficiency and distracts him from his duty. So Sir Webb earnestly advises them against the perils of taking wives before they shall have become thoroughly inured to the military and thus, being accustomed to give orders, decline to receive them.

Summoning the example and precept of history to his aid, Sir Webb runs through a long and glittering roll of British heroes. Field Marshal Earl Haig had the good sense to wait until he was 44 before falling—and now look at him! Field Marshal Sir William Robertson held out until 34; Sir Ian Hamilton also stood fast until he had attained that eminence; Gen. Sir George Milne did much better, not yielding until 39, and so on. Even in the navy, noted for the essential folly of its personnel, Sir Webb is able to find two glowing examples in the persons of Admiral Earl Beatty, who fell at 30, and of noble Jellicoe, time-honored Jutland, who surrendered not until he was 43. As a result, the navy, always uncertain enough, at least still keeps afloat to convoy British troops to their highly important work.

DODGING THE VOLSTEAD ACT.

Technicities raised by defendants in cases involving the violation of the prohibition law are becoming as numerous as those raised by Counsel for the defense in murder cases. With the single exception of a plea of insanity it would appear that offenders against the Volstead act have found as many ways for defeating the ends of justice as have been discovered by the most accomplished defenders of murderers.

The Department of Justice announces that it has filed a brief in the United States Supreme Court in opposition to a petition for a writ of certiorari brought by a man in Iowa convicted of redistilling "rubbing alcohol" and selling it for beverage purposes. Appealing from a decision of the trial court wherein he was found guilty of violation of the Volstead law, he found himself confronted by an adverse decision of the circuit court of appeals, although he pleaded that the indictment upon which he was tried was faulty in that it failed to charge that the alcoholic compound which he helped to manufacture was "fit for use for beverage purposes."

The appellate court held that the indictment sufficiently charged an offense, and although some evidence was erroneously admitted it was not sufficiently prejudicial to justify reversal of the judgment. Hence the petition for the writ.

In opposing the petition the Department of Justice contends that the law is well settled that the words alleged to have been omitted have no application where the charge is that liquor has been illegally manufactured. Which may be regarded as an indication that the department, in this case, at least, scoffs at technicalities.

IMMIGRATION LEGISLATION.

The public discussion this week of the present immigration law will probably have reverberations in Congress. The matter of immigration restriction must, in any case, be acted upon during the present session, and there is likelihood that it will be attended with considerable feeling.

Representative Johnson, of Washington, estimated in the course of a recent debate that in all probability there are as many as 100,000 "bootleg" immigrants a year. The total number actually caught and deported last year was 14,000, so it seems fair to assume that many more were not apprehended. Because of the lack of funds, Mr. Johnson says that the immigration service was obliged during the major part of the year "merely to mark time," deporting only "the minimum of the most necessary cases."

The present immigration law expires on July 1. It must, therefore, either be renewed as it stands, or a new statute must be framed before the end of the present session of Congress. There have been a number of alterations proposed, among which is the suggestion that the present quota limits be retained, but that the basis of admission be shifted from the 1890 census quota to the "national origins" formula. Another proposal is that the present law be left as it is with the provision, however, that the present quota be reduced 10 per cent annually for five years, so that by 1933 the entire number of admissions would be only 82,000.

Both in and out of Congress the subject will receive careful attention, and Congress is liable to sharp criticism if it fails to meet prevailing opinion in favor of the rigid restriction of immigration. It is natural that there should be deep feeling about the matter, for the public has at last realized that the alien population of the United States presents a very real problem, indeed. To the average individual the present law has seemed fair and reasonable.

The law is not responsible, of course, for the "bootleg" immigration. If more ample funds were provided more aliens smuggled into this country could be deported.

WEATHER PROPHETS.

Dr. C. F. Marvin, chief of the United States Weather Bureau, strikes back hard. For many months he has been constantly harassed and heckled by individuals who claim to be "long-range" weather prophets. There is a conspiracy afoot, according to these soothsayers, to hinder progress in the science and art of long-range forecasting. Federal meteorologists, hidebound with tradition and lack of initiative, make no effort to investigate the possibilities of long-range forecasting and deliberately color their own reports in an attempt to discredit "real prophets."

The accusations are untrue, declares Prof. Marvin. Furthermore the United States Weather Bureau will "employ long-range weather forecasting just as soon as it can be put on a scientific basis rather than upon a foundation of mere guesswork." Throughout the past hundred years, he says, there has seldom been a time when one or more long-range forecasters have not sought to interest the public in their sensational claims. They have flourished for a time, only to pass into oblivion.

All sorts of weather calamities were predicted for 1927. It was to be the year without a summer. Crops were to fail throughout the world. Of these reports, Prof. Marvin says:

They were widely circulated in advance; they disturbed the orderly course of business; influenced the prices of and favored harmful speculation in agricultural products; unduly aroused public fear and apprehension; worked unnecessary injury to the farmer, and—were not in any sense verified, as may easily be completely proved by reference to the weekly and monthly bulletins and reviews of the Weather Bureau, including the crop statistics for the United States and the world issued by the Crop Reporting Board of the Department of Agriculture.

There were no summer frosts except in a region along the northern boundary of the United States, where summer frosts are relatively common. Instead of the predicted cold, dry year, with a short growing season, the record shows that for over 80 per cent of the country the mean temperature for the period was above normal. Precipitation for the year was above normal in most sections of the country, and was unusually plentiful over the great interior agricultural districts, while the growing season, on the whole, was prolonged and favorable. "Moreover," says Prof. Marvin, "it is now well known that American, as well as world, production of crops was, in general, satisfactory. In this country the latest official reports show the composite yield of 24 principal crops to be about 7 per cent above the ten-year average, and the yield of seven principal feed and food crops of the world was more than 5 per cent above the average for recent years."

It will not be easy for amateur long-range guessers to answer Prof. Marvin's statement. He makes a convincing argument, and supports it with impressive facts and figures.

VENEZUELA'S RAPID GROWTH.

Announcement recently has been made that the Republic of Venezuela expended during the month of October more than $402,500 in public works. In relation to the size of the country, the amount appears large. If the same relative expenditure were carried out through a twelve-month period, Venezuela would have expended in one year close to $5,000,000 in public works alone. One need not search far to discover the underlying cause of Venezuela's prosperity. It is found in stable government and vigorous development of national resources.

In 1917, Venezuela produced some 120,000 barrels of petroleum. Each succeeding year has witnessed an increased production, until in 1926 the figure reached a total of 37,226,000 barrels. No other country has shown such great proportional increase. With the exception of the United States, Russia and Mexico, Venezuela in 1926 produced more petroleum than any other country. Mexican production has been steadily dropping off, so that today Venezuela is the third greatest petroleum producer in the world. In proportion to its size, it leads the world.

Since 1924 the revenues of Venezuela have almost doubled. Her expenditures have increased also, although in the budget of each year they have stood well under the revenues. Her exports in 1921 amounted to $25,000,000, and her imports, $18,000,000. In 1925, her exports had jumped to $54,000,000, and her imports to $42,000,000. Between 1922 and 1926, her imports from the United States grew from $8,000,000 to $39,000,000 and her exports to the United States grew from $13,000,000 to $23,000,000.

Venezuela has entered upon an era of wonderful prosperity, yet she has not become a spendthrift as a result. Her expenditure for public works during the month of October testifies to the fact that she is looking toward the future. Venezuela is destined to play an increasingly important part in world affairs.

CHURCH UNITY.

Will there ever be a union of the Christian churches into one grand congregation? Bishop Manning in an address before the Church League for Patriotic Service last Tuesday sounded a note of encouragement for those Christians who hopefully look forward to the day of Christian union.

Commenting upon the optimistic outlook through the spectacles of the prelate of the Episcopal Church, the New York Sun calls attention to the fact that the movement toward church union has all along been one of individuals rather than of ecclesiastical organizations. "It has not been difficult at any time in recent years," says the Sun, "to bring together a body of Christians of various creeds and allegiances where the subject of Christian unity can be discussed with the greatest candor. When it comes to bringing in churches and denominations, however, the undertaking is vastly more delicate and difficult."

How very difficult that task will prove can be understood when it is known that the census office reported no fewer than 202 religious denominations in the United States in 1915. There is no reason to suppose that there are fewer today than there were at that time. While the field notes of the latest census of religious bodies are about all in, less than 100 have been tabulated and prepared for publication. Those of the Catholic faith are to be enumerated as one body, but the Protestants are divided and subdivided into many. For example, there are seven Presbyterian denominations, at least four Baptist, and as many Methodist.

When it is remembered that the efforts of more than a third of a century have failed to bring about unions between the Northern and Southern Presbyterians, the Northern and Southern Methodists or the Northern and Southern Baptists, some idea may be obtained of the tremendous task of uniting more than 200 Christian bodies, embracing as many million individuals.

SAVE "OLD IRONSIDES."

The campaign to save the U. S. Constitution, the ship that sailed from Boston in 1812, a Navy in itself, carrying the hopes and fears of a new nation, has not progressed as satisfactorily as had been hoped. To date some $480,000 has been raised, of which $83,000 has been expended on the work of rebuilding the ship. About $750,000 will be required in all or, deducting expenses of the campaign thus far—$118,000—not less than an additional $400,000.

Admiral Philip Andrews, who has led the fight to save "Old Ironsides," hopes to raise the money needed through the sale of ten-color prints of a painting of the ship by Gordon Grant. So far 1,065,000 pictures have been distributed. The sale has begun to lag, however, and Admiral Andrews has asked the aid of fraternal and patriotic organizations throughout the country in reviving it. The Boy Scouts, the American Legion, the Masonic order, the Elks, the Daughters of the Revolution, the Knights of Columbus, together or singly could close the campaign in short order, accomplishing at the same time the delivery into the homes of Americans the picture of a vessel of great historical and patriotic significance.

Congress will not be asked for an appropriation with which to save "Old Ironsides." The ship should be saved by individuals. Large donations from wealthy individuals also would defeat the purpose of the undertaking. An opportunity is presented to civic, patriotic and fraternal organizations to embrace and further the cause.

They were widely circulated in advance; they disturbed the orderly course of business; influenced the prices of and favored harmful speculation in agricultural products; unduly aroused public fear and apprehension; worked unnecessary injury to the farmer, and—were not in any sense verified, as may easily be completely proved by reference to the weekly and monthly bulletins and reviews of the Weather Bureau, including the crop statistics for the United States and the world issued by the Crop Reporting Board of the Department of Agriculture.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Parking on Eighteenth Street.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: There is, as you know, at the north-west corner of Eighteenth and I streets northwest a structure called the Washington Medical Building, in which are located the offices of some of our leading physicians, specialists and dentists. Patients come trooping there under stress and pain and difficulty. Zounds! the troubles of many are aggravated, and expense and annoyance added to their misery, by the superlative efficiency of the police. No parking is allowed on Eighteenth street between 4 and 5 o'clock. It is an "arterial highway." But when upward of 50,000 automobiles are speeding homeward after 4:30 p.m., what streets are not?

"I love Billy," said she, "and I know he adores me; but I have seen so many marriages fail and I am afraid. Why do they fall? And why do some succeed?"

"My dear," said the old actor, "their success or failure depends on the second falling in love."

"It sounds like a riddle," said the girl. "Or are you teasing me?"

"I'm not teasing," said the old man. "There really must be a second falling in love, and I will tell you why. Didn't you fall in love with the theater long before you began to act?"

"Long before," said the girl.

"And you love it still?"

"Much, much more," said the girl, "but in a different way, of course."

"That is the secret," said the old man. "At first you sat out in front and lived in a kind of dream world. The jewels the ladies wore seemed real, and the scenery seemed real, and the thunder and lightning and the sounds of the orchestra seemed real. You learned to love it, and after a while you yearned to be a part of it. Isn't that right?"

"Yes," said the girl. "I thought I could never be happy until I got on the stage."

"And yet you were disappointed the first time you got back of the scenes?"

"Oh, bitterly disappointed," the girl confessed. "Everything seemed so tawdry at first—the rough timbers, and the grease paint and the glittering things that looked so cheap when I saw them close up. But I learned to love it all, and now I couldn't be happy without it."

The old actor smiled and patted the girl's hand. "There isn't anything more I can tell you about matrimony," said he. "It's just seeing the other side of the curtain, and you must learn to love that side too."

A young intellectual needs a fine vocabulary. The smaller the idea, the bigger the words needed to express it.

The crime wave will end when lawyers refuse to defend a killer or bandit until convinced that he is innocent.

"The modern woman doesn't read the end of a novel first." It isn't necessary; they begin kissing in the first chapter.

BROAD RALLY DEVELOPS NEAR CLOSE OF MARKET

Sharp Advances Follow Early
Listlessness; Adams Express a Leader.

CALL FUNDS 4 PER CENT

Special to The Washington Post.

New York, Jan. 19.—The stock market was listless and irregular today until the final hour, when buying became more confident and there was a quite general rally. The turnover was slightly below 1,500,000 shares, the lowest figure since early last summer and not far beyond the smallest day in 1927. With but few exceptions price movements were narrow until the final hour, when gains of 1 to 3 points were numerous. In the end net advances, which outnumbered losses by about 3 to 1, extended to 4%, with a few considerably higher. Southern Railways, M. & O. certificates, on a turnover of only 1,000 shares, closed with a net gain of 14%. Adams Express, at a new high, was up 9%, and Midland Steel produced a net 7%.

Some surprises were caused when call money renewed at 4 per cent, after dropping to 3½ yesterday. This rate, however, held for only a brief period, being cut to 3½ per cent when the demand failed to take up the large supply of funds seeking placement. Some loans were made on the call at 3 per cent. This situation undoubtedly helped to stimulate the late buying movement, as did the announced advance in price of steel by the United States Steel Corporation. Steel common was quickly pushed up for a gain of more than 3 points and closed with a net advance of 2½%. The independent steels also gained from 1 to 4½ points, net in moderately active trading. The maximum gain was scored by Republic Iron and Steel in this group.

Many traders hesitated in the early part of the session, waiting for the Federal Reserve system to report this afternoon on its holding of government securities and brokerage loans. Several of the utilities and some of the specialties were outstanding strong features of the forenoon.

An interesting development of the day was the lowering of the discount rate of the Bank of France to 3½ percent from the 4 per cent level established two weeks ago. This action, together with the recent raising of the ban on importation of capital, naturally was accepted as indicating that France unquestionably is able to go ahead with the stabilization of the franc on a gold basis.

One of the features of the market was the advance of almost 10 points in Adams Express, which enjoyed an upturn of 8 points yesterday. An official of the company declared he knew of no pending development to warrant the sudden spurt. It was evident from the volume of dealings that the floating of Adams stock was a considerable factor behind the advance.

In explanation of the strength, yesterday and today in Southern Railway, Mobile & Ohio stock, it was said that this State of Alabama would take steps to control the railroads. The railway's control of Mobile & Ohio, through discrimination against the port of Mobile in the routing of freight. This report was followed by one that the Southern was preparing a consolidation plan involving an offer of Southern stock for Mobile & Ohio. It was said today the Southern Railway management may be trying to acquire the minority stock of the mobile Ohio.

Predictions by automobile and tire men and railroad officials of an acute shortage had little effect on tire company shares today, most of them moving narrowly and closing with fractional losses.

General Motors moved narrowly and was only moderately active, but picked up 2½ points, net, in the final hour and closed 1½ points up. Most other motors made small gains and closed with net gains ranging from fractions to 3 points. Most of the tobacco, cigar, sugar, copper and sulphur were in the same column by a narrow margin at the close.

Tar rails moved irregularly, with trading generally light and price changes unimportant.

Montauk Power was the leader of the utilities, gaining 4½ net and closing at 11½. Its highest price in over a decade, Federal Light & Traction closed 2½ net; Electric Power & Light 1½; and Boston Edison 2½.

Sterling on New Haven saw a sixteenth in quiet foreign exchange market dealings. Swedish rates yielded 2½ points, but Norwegian gained 3 points. Spanish pesetas rose 6 points, then lost the improvement and a point more. Japanese yen moved up 6 points, again selling at 47 cents, while Hongkong and Shanghai were heavy.

UNBEATEN MARYLAND AND C. U. FIVES SCORE AGAIN

School Teams Face Triple Deadlock

Central Vs. Western, Tech Vs. Business in Today's Games.

Capt. Keefer, Injured, to Be Lost to the Stenographers.

Halfway mark in the high school basketball series now in progress at the Arcadia will be reached this afternoon when Central meets Western at 2:15 o'clock and Business engages Tech in the second game at 4:15 o'clock.

The outcome of today's games may result in a triple tie for first place, as both Central, Tech, by winning in their respective games, can draw up to an equal footing with Eastern, now leading the series with three victories and only one defeat.

Both Western and Business face their opponents today suffering the loss of one or more of their most dependable players. Lucy Hunt, guard of the Western team, wrenches his knee yesterday and will be unable to start today. Wilson will be at center, either Wood or Doyle will fill Luney's place at guard. Hunt will be at the other guard position, with Garber and La Tona at forward.

Richard Keefer, captain and one of the mainstays of the Business team, who has been injured more or less all season, will be lost to the stenographers. An X-ray examination revealed that a bone in his left foot is broken and he will be forced to idle until March.

This cripples the Business line-up, as Jake Davis is the only other shake of a stick in the grippe and Frank Davis, center, will be forced to play with a couple of fingers taped.

Despite the fact that both Business and Western will not be able to show their full strength, the fans can look forward to two exciting and spirited contests of games of the series.

Western in its last time out all but defeated the leading Eastern High School Team. Eastern being forced to extend itself to eke out a victory by a scant three points.

With Wilson, a center, and La Tona, a young sophomore, playing a sensational game, Western trashed Eastern throughout the game by two and three points.

The team will be sure to come back today in an effort to defeat Central, as Western teams always play their best against the Mount Pleasant School.

Such is also the case with Business, which considers itself the underdog. With Business trailing the pack, it almost upset the strong Central team last week. Business enjoyed an 18-9 lead at the half, and showing surprising power was outplaying the crafty Central Team, but the foul streaking of the latter part of the game, which was evident when Central in a great two-minute spurt ran up ten points to take the lead. Business is sure to fight with much determination against Tech today.

Three Mat Matches At Arcadia Monday

"Dutch" Green, protege of "Rob Roy" Mackay, will meet Eddie Pope and Joe Turner will face Al Baskin in two of the three wrestling bouts at the Arcadia on Monday night. The third contest, which will bring together heavyweight, is between Tony Selizzi, Italian claimant of the Pacific Coast title, and Frank Tundis, giant Russian.

Baskin made quite a reputation locally last winter by defeating all-comers at the Mutual. Turner has been successful in his two starts since his return to Washington.

Frenchman Falls Unhit; Bout Awarded Britisher

London, Jan. 13 (A.P.)—Len Harvey, of London, tonight won in the fourteenth round a fight with "Kid" Nitram, French middleweight champion, who was disqualified for going down without a punch.

No championship was involved but Nitram hoped, if winner, to get a match with Tommy Milligan, British welterweight champion.

Pete Latzo Becomes Light-Heavyweight

Atlantic City, N. J., Jan. 19 (A.P.)—Pete Latzo, former world's welterweight champion, who now lives in Margate City, has become a light-heavyweight.

Last summer, Pete weighed 147 pounds, but a little bout with Joe Dunn, of Baltimore, had lost him now.

"I'm going after the light-heavyweight crown now," he says.

Jersey City Club Denies Veteran Outfielder Is Sought.

THE status of Tris Speaker, veteran outfielder of the Washington Bull Club, is unchanged since the decision by President Griffith, of the Nationals, at the end of the 1927 season, that Speaker was free to join any club he chose. Speaker's manager, if he were able to effect the deal,

YOUR BOY AND YOUR GIRL

By ARTHUR DEAN HODD

The Parent Counselor

Do these will answer all your letters pertaining to parents' problems with their boys and girls. Writers' names are never printed, only questions of general interest are answered. Address Arthur Dean, in care of this paper.

S O S
There are some things a man can not write about; and this is one. Obviously, I can write it when I get the data. It's a grave question. How don't laugh. Honestly, folks, more girls are thinking about this question and its effects—cousin—"Why isn't I get any chances?"—than you imagine. Both of them give more concern than that geometrical problem of heights which comes in the geometry class.

When a girl gets to geometry she gets to another sort of "limit" problem; and it's no theorem or theory. It's an honest-to-goodness "let's but he's perplexed" request for help. How can we find a very nice and easy way for a girl to tell a boy not to hug and kiss her? Every time I try to tell one I get cold feet."

Hands off, boys! No letters from you. You wouldn't think of taking the cat to render an opinion on how the mouse could avoid his nibbling intentions. And, please, no theories from fathers and spinsterettes. This is a serious business, and answers should come from experts at the game. It is a game, and has more rules than football.

B. S. just met an elderly school teacher, and asked, "How would you go about it?" Her answer was short, "Simply say, 'stop,' and look as though you meant it." But somehow the feeling came over me that we lacked experience.

OUR CONVERSATION CORNER

Program.

We want to map out our program for the new year. Can you suggest anything helpful?

P.T.A. PROGRAM

Answer—I suggest that you send for a list of "suggestions for P.T.A. programs," which I send if the request is accompanied by usual S.A.E.

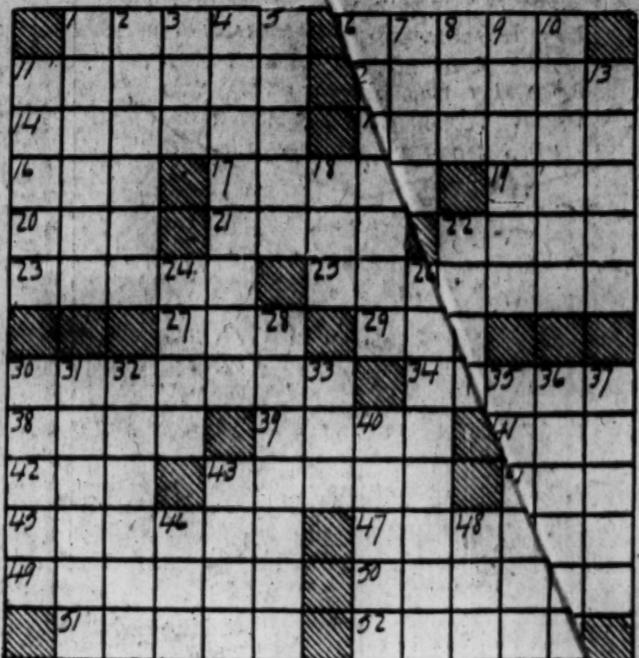

Poster Teaching.

Please state some effective way to teach character, health, value of an education, etc., and not just preach to the people.

Answer—I like poster teaching. The broadest avenue to the brain is the ear. The ear hears sounds as they are. The hand carries impressions as they exist. But the eye sees all. A picture gives imagination play. It stimulates

JOHN M'CORMACK ON AIR THROUGH STATION WJZWill Share Program Honors With Mme. Maria Jeritza, Opera Soprano.

John McCormack, who will perhaps be remembered as one of the outstanding events in a season of fine broadcast entertainment, will appear before the microphone of station WJZ at 10 o'clock tonight. He will share honors with Mme. Maria Jeritza, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company.

His first group Mr. McCormack will sing "The Chorus Girl," "Romeo and Juliet" ("A Fairy Story by the Fire" (Merikanto), "Avon Maris" (Schubert).

Mme. Jeritza will sing two operatic arias, "Pleurez, mes Yeux" from Massenet's "Le Cid" and "Volez, Soyez" from Mascagni's "Cavalleria Rusticana."

Irish folk songs make up Mr. McCormack's program: "Would God I Were a Tender Apple Blossom," "The Short Cut to the Rosses," and "The Dance."

Interest in Mme. Jeritza's numbers lies in two sets from Bizet's "Carmen," "Habanera" and "Seguidilla," an opera in which she made her first American appearance only a few days ago.

George Marion came in yesterday to pay his respects, always the same kindly soul. He is playing this week down at the Warner Bros. studio, ready to ready—better called a farce—"Six Feet Under." In his 54 years on the stage, usually in character parts, George Marion has heard and seen many strange things.

Since he has done almost everything in the theater, from acting to producing, to directing, to writing, Mr. Marion has a keen sympathy for all concerned; and especially for the public, though the public often tries even his patience. He was telling us of a production that occurred some years ago when he put on a play for Robert Hilliard, a slight sort of piece but nevertheless the brain child of a celebrated author who deserved a labor. "What do you think?" Bob Hilliard asked of George Marion. "He knew that the playwright was within ear-shot, exclaiming, in all honesty: 'Well, it's just what the public deserves.'

Some day some one is going to write a play in which George Marion can be starred. It is his due. There is no greater actor on the American stage. No matter what the role assigned him he will rise out of it more than the author puts in it; even in character creation of greatest minds. His versatile broadcast will be closed by Mr. McCormack, a musical farce—a selection from Reginald De Koven's little known opera, "Red Feather." A flute and oboe duet will bring radio listeners a song, "Charming Bird," from "The Pearl of Brazil" and "Habanera," by Victor Herbert, and "Marche Joyeuse," by Leopold Stokowski.

The Cavaliers will sing the old familiar songs, "Alice Ben Bolt," "Lindy Lou" and, with orchestral accompaniment, will lose the r'v by singing "Love's Old Sweet Song."

Mr. and Mrs. Persson will be on the air at 9 o'clock, playing numbers from Massenet, Waldegrave, once, Stoughton and Goldmark.

The Prim'ative hour will be broadcast at 10 o'clock from WRC.

Dr. Floyd Marvin, president of George Marion's Foundation, will address the Friday night forum of the City Club at 12 o'clock today. His subject will be "Higher Education in the District of Columbia" and this program will be broadcast by station WJZ.

The new station recently completed for use by WMBI, Chicago, Ill., will be inaugurated at 8 o'clock tonight. This new stat. will use 500 watts power and is operated by the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.

Another review, head through WJZ-KDKA, will be given the blue net-work stations at 9 o'clock tonight. A varied program of light numbers has been arranged.

CRUSADE TO BACK KELLOGG'S TREATIES URGED BY WOMEN

Organized Drive to Stir Up Public Opinion Senators Will Notice Planned.

INCREASED ARMAMENT BY U. S. IS DEPLORED

Action for Adherence to World Court Also Taken by Conference Opposing War.

A national crusade to stir up a thoroughly organized public support of the multilateral treaties to end war proposed by Secretary Kellogg was recommended by the conference on the cause and cure, which was to the national committee at the close of its meeting yesterday in the Washington Hotel.

By a unanimous voting rise the conference approved a proposal by Mrs. Catt, chairman of Catt's Committee, such a campaign crusade be launched by the national committee, which is composed of specially appointed representatives of the nine organizations that send delegates to the conference. The organizations presented selected women "well-trained women," among whom would be allotted the 48 States of the Union in even portions of territory for carrying on the campaign. Each woman selected would direct the campaign in her appointed territory, which would approximate 6 States each.

Want Kellogg Step Ratified.

She suggested that the first step in the campaign should be the ratification of the resolution adopted by the previous meeting of Mr. Kellogg's proposal, which is briefly, that this country make treaties with France, England, Germany, Japan, Italy and any other nations of like mind renouncing what as "an instrument of national power."

After this first step, she suggested, the auxiliaries of the bodies composing the conference should form temporary committees in each State. They could hold State conferences on the subject of the proposed treaties and those to whom were allotted the territorial districts for conducting the campaign would attend the State conferences.

The organization, she suggested, should enlist prominent writers and speakers who could speak before clubs, address schools and colleges, clubs and civic organizations, churches and public mass meetings; in fact, as she stated, "to carry information about the proposed treaties into every village and hamlet."

The national committee would decide the details of the campaign. These, however, were Mrs. Catt's recommendations.

Campaign on Senators.

The object of the crusade, she said, would be "to get the two senators from every State ready for the Senate to ratify the Kellogg treaty." She realized that the people thoroughly understand the State Department proposals, and desire approval by the Senate when the treaties come up for ratification.

She added:

"I want you to give more than that vague thing we call cooperation. We must give the last ounce of our strength, the last penny of our money, to get positive action. This should be more than a crusade, it should be a revolution. It can be put through between the great powers of the world, you would find navy hills falling by the way and security establishing itself."

Mrs. Catt told her hearers not to expect that this "would banish war." She declared that "war will rise again," adding:

"But we can at least stop the avalanche that is now moving down the mountain side, and for the time being establish an era of peace and security. We can do this if we never do anything peace hereafter."

Catt to Decline to Run.

At the close of the conference, Mrs. Catt said that she did not know whether the national committee will call a conference again. She said she will call another conference again. The third conference, she said, had risen higher than the previous two. She declared, however, that the committee would have to select another chairman. She said, "We do not choose to be the next chairman."

The conference passed a resolution "deploring" the policy "of great" increased naval armaments for the United States at the same time that our State Department is trying to reduce rearmament as an instrument of international policy," and urging that "in the adoption of any naval building program the President be authorized to suspend construction if circumstances warrant it."

A resolution was also passed authorizing the national committee to address a letter to the President, pressing the hope that a way might be found "to reopen negotiations looking toward the adherence of the United States to the Permanent Court of International Justice."

Mrs. William D. Sporborg, of the National Council of Jewish Women, presided at the afternoon forum discussion, the subject of which was "Possible Findings of Foreign Policy."

Miss S. L. Land, member of Parliament spoke of the place of Great Britain among world powers at a banquet in the evening which closed the conference. Dr. J. Leighton Stuart spoke on the place of China among world powers. Mrs. Russell Snyder, speaker on the position of the United States. Mrs. Catt, in the closing speech, told the delegates not to be afraid of names. She boldly proclaimed, "she said, that she was a pacifist." To call people names, she said, is "the feeble mind's way of answering an argument."

Tells of Resignation.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: In your issue of this morning you state that "Negro Advance Group Ousts L. M. Hershaw," and that my resignation "was requested."

I did resign as a member of the executive committee of the local branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. I was not ousted nor was I officially required to resign. My resignation was entirely voluntary, due to the fact that I found myself out of harmony with the temper, ambitions, methods and understanding of Neval H. Thomas, the president of the branch, and not to any question of race or ethnicity.

I am writing this note and request its publication on the assumption that you desire to state the facts in any case without prejudice to any person involved.

L. M. HERSHAW.

AUTO LIABILITY BILL LAID BEFORE HOUSE HAS $10,000 LIMIT

Treadway Moves to Get Hearing on Measure, of Which He Is Author, at Early Date.

DIFFERS FROM JONES ACT IN BOND FEATURE

Representative Issues Statement Pointing Out Need of Curb on Reckless Drivers.

A new bill providing for compulsory automobile liability insurance in the District of Columbia was introduced in the House yesterday by Representative Allen T. Treadway, of Massachusetts. He said he will try and get a hearing for it at an early date.

Under the terms of the bill, owners of automobiles or trailers here could not register their machines with the superintendent of licenses unless they furnished some security to compensate persons whom they might run down and injure or the dependents of persons who were killed.

The bill differs from one introduced by Senator Jones, of Washington, in that it provides that the liability insurance or a surety bond shall be furnished by private companies. The Jones bill would create an insurance fund which would be administered by the Federal Employees Compensation Commission.

Owner Has Three Choices.

Under the Treadway bill, the automobile owner would have his choice of three alternatives: He could take out liability insurance with an authorized insurance company; he could take out a surety bond payable to the District, or he could deposit with the superintendent of licenses $5,000 in cash or securities.

As is now the case, judgments would be rendered by the courts. However, the bill does not provide that the full judgment shall necessarily be paid under the insurance plan. The provisions of the bill are as follows: $5,000 for each death or injury and $10,000 for any accident, regardless of how many persons are injured and killed.

If the judgment rendered by the courts exceeds these figures, it is up to the plaintiff to get the difference in whatever way he thinks best.

Explains in Statement.

In introducing his bill, Representative Treadway issued the following statement:

"The need of providing some form of security by which those injured by reckless drivers may be compensated is very apparent, in my place more so than in the District of Columbia."

"The bill will not provide compensation for those injured and require a responsibility on the part of those licensed to operate motor vehicles which in all likelihood will prevent many irresponsible persons from registering their vehicles."

"The statistics for the District of Columbia are incomplete. It is a fact, however, that there were in the United States during the year 1926 a total of 20,000 deaths, 40,000 serious injuries and 500,000 minor injuries caused by automobile accidents."

"The daily press confirms the fact that the District of Columbia has furnished more than its prorsa share of the above figures."

Treadway pointed out that the subject of automobile liability insurance had been considered by the legislatures of 42 States. Seven or eight of these, he said, have enacted legislation on the subject, including his own, Massachusetts. In that State, he said, a compulsory liability insurance act was passed two years ago.

REROUTING OF MANY TRACTION COMPANY LINES IS PROPOSED

Four Would Be Abolished and New One Established, Utilities Commission Told.

BETTER DISTRIBUTION OF SERVICE IS DESIRED

More Frequent Headway Also Planned in Program Up for Hearing February 1.

Extensive rerouting and changing of frequency of service in the street cars was proposed to the Public Utilities Commission yesterday by the Capital Traction Co. The project will be held Feb. 1 at the Continental Memorial Hall under the auspices of the Key Men of America. Twenty-nine patriotic and veterans' organizations participated in the conference.

On the first day of this year Senator David Reed, of Pennsylvania, author of the national origins provision, told the night session of the conference there were more than 1,500,000 applicants for admission to the United States registered. The number of immigrants and citizens of this number and the millions which would follow, would cause the United States "soon to lose its American identity and become a polyglot of transported European culture and instinct."

"We have no need for any such immigration," the senator continued. "America is doing its own work well today. Can you inflict any greater injury upon the American who works with his hands than to introduce the millions of foreign workers who come to look for jobs and come inevitably to take jobs from American citizens?"

Senator Reed said that he will take steps in the present session of Congress to the reuniting of families of immigrants consistent with the origin's quotas.

Senator Harrison of Mississippi, told the conference that "it is preposterous, when the American people are spending billions of dollars to educate our youth, to say that the gates should be opened and the illiterate of other countries allowed to infest our land."

Natives Being Swamped.

Representative John C. Box, of Texas, declared that attacks now being made on the national origins system would fail. He said that many of those who would like to attack the system are held in check because of the apparent determination of real Americans to see that it is enforced.

A constant depressing of American native stock was forced by Prof. H. Laughlin, of the eugenics record office of the Carnegie Institution. If the foreign-born population is reproduced itself at the present time approximately one and two-thirds times as rapidly as the native-born white.

The outcome of the present differential breeding, he said, would mean that the descendants of the present native-born population, which now constitutes 76.3 per cent of the white population, would in 50 years be 90 per cent while the present foreign-born population which now constitutes 12.97 per cent of the whole, would, at the end of four generations, constitute in their descendants 76.7 per cent.

He is showing a steady and healthy growth through the increase of the birth rate over the death rate, and there is no necessity for permitting immigration without restriction. Representative Albert Johnson, of Washington, chairman of the House immigration committee, declared.

Restriction of immigration was also advocated by Mrs. William Sherman Walker, chairman of the defense committee of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Hon. Elmer Huntington Hooker, of New York, Fred R. Martin, executive director of the Key Men, presided.
